CIO Continues Efforts To Close Bethlehem Plants

Strike Called at Johnstown, Threat Of Walkout Made At Lackawanna

"Indefinite Stoppage" at Cambria Works May Continue Three Days or Three Weeks

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., March 28. (AP)—CIO unionists, protesting against an election by a rival bargaining agency, walked out of the Bethlehem Steel Company's sprawling Cambria works today in what leaders described as an "indefinite stoppage" that may continue "three days or three weeks."

The walkout came a few hours after a four-day strike ended at the corporation's plant at Bethlehem, Pa.

The issue was the same in the disputes at Johnstown and Bethlehem. The CIO's Steel Workers Organizing Committee objected to an election of sixty bargaining representatives by the Employees Representation Board has ordered abolished on the ground it is a company-dominated union. The ERP has appealed to the courts.

Another Strike Threat
The day's developments also included a CIO threat to renew a strike at Bethlehem's Lackawanna, N. Y., plant.

Here at Johnstown, union and management spokesmen disputed the effectiveness of the walkout, which was carried out quietly. There was no picketing and no violence.

James Gent, sub regional director of the CIO, claimed 11,000 of the 15,000 employees quit work and that there was 100 per cent stoppage of steel production and eighty per cent shutdown in finishing departments.

Company Denies Claim
A company spokesman, on the other hand, contended only a relatively small number of workmen joined the walkout and that steel production was still under way. He said operations were curtailed, but "not seriously."

Gent, who previously ordered the men to leave the plant "the minute" ERP ballot boxes appeared in the mills, said at a press conference attended by a federal labor conciliator and others:

"This is an indefinite stoppage. It will continue three days or three weeks. We must have a binding agreement. We insist that the ERP be put out of business."

"We are going to watch the company and be sure it doesn't send anybody into the mill."

Same Demands in Plant
He added that while the SWOC had not communicated with the company yet, he planned to submit the same demands, including dis-

Senate Committee Approves Huge Appropriation To Help Farmers

WASHINGTON, March 28. (AP)—Acting with the same speed used on defense billions, the Senate Appropriations committee today stamped approval on a $1,340,610,744 farm bill, largest in history.

Senator Russell (D-Ga.) who will act as floor manager for the appropriation in the Senate Monday said there was "not any question" about Senate passage.

He and other farm-minded senators agreed that a fight, if any, would come when the measure was sent back to the House which previously had voted only $890,000,000 for the administration's agricultural program.

Far Above House Total
As reported to the Senate the annual bill supplying funds for millions of farmers and their families was $449,706,707 above the House total, $444,858,773 higher than President Roosevelt's budget recommendations, and $303,651,822 above last year's appropriations.

At least we didn't hit the $7,000,000,000 mark," said Senator Nye (R-ND) member of the Senate "Farm bloc" and a critic of the British-aid program.

CIO Strike Voted By Shipbuilders At Hoboken, N. J.

Union Authorizes Walkout at Call of Executive Committee

HOBOKEN, N. J., March 28. (AP)—The CIO Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers of America, local 15, empowered its executive committee tonight to call a strike of the 1,500 workers in the Hoboken shipyards of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation.

Simultaneously, a meeting of Brooklyn, N. Y., local 13, which claims representation for 3,500 employed in two other Bethlehem shipyards, named a negotiating committee to confer Monday with the company. At that time, a union official said, a federal conciliator was expected to be present.

The Hoboken local has been negotiating with Bethlehem on a contract. Philip H. Van Gelder, national secretary-treasurer of the union said the deliberations here were to form the basis for the three New York harbor yards.

Vote "Unanimous"
Charles Brecht, national representative at the Hoboken union office, said the vote by 1,200 members to grant strike power to the local's executive committee was "unanimous," adding:

"We shall use every means offered by the United States government, the National Labor Board and any other federal conciliation service before we call a strike."

Judge Stays Vote Of Employees of Allis-Chalmers

Group of Workers Defies Leaders and Returns to Their Jobs

MILWAUKEE, March 28. (AP)—Circuit Judge John C. Kleczka today ordered a temporary stay in the Wisconsin Labor Board's action directing a new vote by Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Company workers to ascertain whether or not they want to continue their sixty-day strike.

The board Thursday ordered a new election be held within fifteen days, after it heard testimony that forty per cent of the votes cast in the Jan. 21 election which approved the strike were fraudulent. A handwriting expert testified at a hearing that the ballot boxes were stuffed.

Secretary of Navy Knox said it was this disclosure which prompted issuance of the plant re-opening order.

In behalf of the striking union, Judge Kleczka issued the order which required the labor board to show cause Wednesday why the holding of such an election should not be restrained permanently.

Nazis Impatient To Get Reply of Yugoslavia Ruler

Berlin Prepares People for Bad News from Belgrade Regime

BERLIN, March 28. (AP)—Germany exhibited an impatient desire tonight for a yes or no answer as to whether Yugoslavia was going flatly to repudiate her new Axis membership, and it appeared that the German people were being prepared to expect energetic reactions.

The radio and the press reported—without particular excitement—that there had been anti-German demonstrations in Belgrade, and the authoritative commentary Dienst Aus Deutschland remarked that German press reports cast doubt upon a statement attributed to the Yugoslav government that Germans had not actually been mistreated there.

See Ample Precedent
There was ample precedent, it was observed, for a vigorous German response to the abuse of its nationals in neighboring countries.

The impression left in Berlin political circles was that the statement of policy of General Dusan Simovic, the new head of the Yugoslav government, was not satisfactory here.

As understood here, Simovic proposed to have a strict neutrality, implying no partisan cooperation with Greece or Britain. It also was understood from press reports that there was some disposition among the new masters of Yugoslavia to let the Axis agreement hang in the air—unratified but not specifically repudiated.

The Germans make it a habit to refuse to express themselves on hypothetical or indefinite situations, so there was no authorized comment as to what would happen if Belgrade decided to let the pact dangle uncertainly.

Old Problems Arise
It was conceded here that General Simovic was faced with great problems and a confusion of old Balkan problems.

Speculations were raised as to whether Yugoslavia could present a united political front. It was the stated opinion that no matter what decisions were ultimately made in Belgrade that the Croat and other elements of the kingdom would not readily forget their many ties with Germany, and that internal dissensions would greatly weaken the country if it decides to take a stand against the Axis.

Yugoslavia's sentimental attachments to Russia were seen by Germans as an imponderable force. There was a question whether Yugoslavia would care to risk such evidence of Russian irritation as the German-Bulgarian alliance had joined the German-Italian-Japanese alliance.

802 Changed Wave Lengths Start Today in Effort To Better Radio

Group of Workers Defies Leaders and Returns to Their Jobs

MILWAUKEE, March 28. (AP)—This morning at 3 a. m. (EST) was moving time on the airways.

Of the nation's 893 standard broadcast stations, 802 changed wave lengths—most of them only a few points on radio dials, but still enough to require resetting of push buttons for automatic tuning.

That will inconvenience thousands of owners of radio sets, but the Federal Communications Commission expects they will get better reception hereafter.

Better Reception Predicted
"Nobody likes moving day," Chairman James Lawrence Piv said last night in an address broadcast by NBC. "But the nuisance will soon be over, while the benefit—better reception and less interference—will continue to accumulate during the years."

The change in frequency allocations springs from a conference at Havana, Cuba, called in 1937 to coordinate the assignment of air-space to radio stations in North America and minimize interference.

MILWAUKEE STRIKERS DEFY THEIR LEADERS

Complying with the resume work order of Navy Secretary Frank Knox and O. P. M. Director William Knudsen, the strike-stalled Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Company at Milwaukee readied its facilities for resumption of work on its vital defense contracts but C. I. O. strike leaders warned the 7,500 workers of job losses if they returned before the union gave its sanction. In the above picture a strike leader is seen warning a group of production men against returning to their posts. Many defied the leaders and returned to work.

Nazi and Fascist Centers Damaged By British Fliers

London Also Announces War Casualties at Home Total 70,000

LONDON, March 28. (AP)—British air and sea forces reported heavy blows to German arsenals and Italian supply lines tonight while on the home front Great Britain acknowledged civilian casualties of nearly 70,000 since the war started.

The RAF blasted the great Rhine-land industrial centers of Cologne and Duesseldorf and the German-held French "invasion ports" of Dunkerque, Brest and Calais, the air ministry announced.

In the Mediterranean, the admiralty said, the submarine Parthian torpedoed a 6,000-ton supply or troop ship and a 10,000-ton tanker in an Italian convoy off southern Italy.

London Gets Rest
With only a brief daylight alarm in London, the first since the night of March 20, Britain continued to enjoy a virtual respite from German attacks which Ellen Wilkinson, parliamentary secretary of the home security ministry, disclosed had killed 28,859 civilians since the start of the war.

The seriously injured, Miss Wilkinson said at New Castle, totaled 40,166. Without revealing the exact number of military casualties she said the ratio of civilian to service deaths was 50 to 1.

Shortly after this was reported, the air ministry news service in a review of British air activity over Germany declared 1,000 persons

Dangerous Drug Placed In 410,000 Tablets by New York Chemical Co.

CHICAGO, March 28. (AP)—The American Medical Association disclosed tonight that a mixup in the manufacture of a drug, in which a powerful sleeping tablet was accidentally substituted for a new drug, had resulted in at least two deaths and caused several other persons to lapse into dangerous comas.

The association said the drug was sulphathiazole, prepared by a New York drug concern. The company, the AMA said, had inadvertently contaminated sulphathiazole with phenobarbital. Sulphathiazole is used in the treatment of pneumonia and certain infections.

410,000 Tablets Bottled
Dr. Morris Fishbein, editor of the AMA journal, said the company had bottled 410,000 of the wrong tablets and made wholesale shipments before the error was discovered in December. The concern immediately began to recall all orders from wholesalers and notified the federal food and drug administration, which has sent hundreds of inspectors into the field to trace the shipments.

Tablets of the two drugs were the same color and size and look alike.

The association said that deaths attributed to use of the drug included a nineteen-month-old baby in East St. Louis, Ill., and man in Farmington, Mo. Other cases in East St. Louis, the AMA said, involved a man who slept forty-eight hours after taking the product, a nine-year-old boy who slept thirty hours and a woman who became drowsy after taking a few

Jan Valtin Likes Way He Is Used At Ellis Island

Seized for Deportation Proceedings He Is Freed on Bond

NEW YORK, March 28. (AP)—Jan Valtin, author of the best seller "Out of the Night," was seized for deportation proceedings today, but he came away from the Ellis Island immigration station with nothing but praise for the treatment accorded him.

"They were kind to me in there," Valtin told reporters in his first "mass" interview since he wrote his book. He has posted $5,000 bond to insure his appearance at a hearing April 14 when he will answer charges that he is in the country illegally.

The large, ruddy-faced man whose tale of Communist and Nazi tortures abroad is in current demand, said he was impressed deeply by the immigration proceedings.

Treated Better Here
"The difference between the brutal torture one undergoes in questioning in Germany or Russia and the treatment I have received from American officials is the difference between Democracy and Nazism or Communism," he said.

Valtin, whose real name is Richard Julius Herman Krebs, described in his book underground conspiracies and overt terrorism that he said constituted the Communist movement, of which he was a prominent member in Germany. He escaped to the United States and is now seeking asylum here.

"When I can apply for citizenship, I shall be deeply grateful," he said. "I regard America as my country now. I hope to stay here in spite of Communists' attempts to smear me as a spy."

He said immigration officials met him after he made a broadcast in Washington Wednesday night and "requested me to come here to answer some questions."

Hopes To Break Morale Of People by Appeals To Serbs and Croats

Repudiation of Vienna Agreement Not Expected To Result in Immediate Military Drive; New Government Seeks Full and Absolute "Neutrality"; Nazi Civilians Leave Belgrade

BELGRADE, March 28. (AP)—Yugoslavia today repudiated, in effect, the Axis alliance and informed quarters close to the new government predicted that Germany would withhold military assault at least momentarily while trying to break up the country from within.

Hitler would try to achieve this goal, it was suggested, by exploiting old Serb-Croat hatreds and use of the Fifth column.

The Yugoslav army, 1,200,000 strong, stood mobilized at the frontiers, ready for any military threat, but sharpest interest shifted to Zagreb, where the Croat leader, Vice Premier Vladimir Macek, debated with his lieutenants whether to remain in the new cabinet.

Macek, a holdover from the "Axis" government which was kicked out Thursday, was said to fear that Croatia, the northern part of the country, would bear the first fury of any German or Italian attacks, and thus he desired fulfillment of the Vienna agreement of last Tuesday.

Hope To Widen Rift
(That Germany hoped to exploit this rift to the fullest extent was indicated by Belgrade dispatches of DNB, official German news agency, stressing Macek's indecision and noting the political differences between the Serbs and Croats, largest individual segments of the quilt-work kingdom of Yugoslavia.)

The governor of Croatia was understood, however, to be negotiating with Macek and the new premier, Gen. Dusan Simovic, for continued Croat representation in the cabinet. It is recalled here that the "divide and conquer" tactic was used successfully by Germany against Czechoslovakia after Hitler's setback of May, 1938, when President Eduard Benes mobilized the Czechs to defy the Nazis.

Aware of the situation, the new government informed Germany that the pact signed last Tuesday at Vienna by the men who were overthrown two days later would be neither renounced nor ratified, but would be left dangling while Yugoslavia maintained "full and absolute" neutrality towards everyone.

Outright Repudiation
This amounts to outright repudiation, and high diplomatic sources said the Germans had been told flatly that compliance was "impossible because it would be contrary to the will of Yugoslav people."

This answer to an "urgent" Yugoslav statement of the Yugoslav attitude was unsatisfactory to Germany. The German minister, Viktor von Heeren, was reported authoritatively tonight to have delivered a new two-point note protesting the beating of Germans and demanding a satisfactory written declaration of the Yugoslav position, reminding the government that Germany considers the pact binding.

America Offers Aid
On the other hand, U. S. Minister Arthur Bliss Lane delivered formally an American offer of full aid to Yugoslavia in resisting aggression, and that the young King Peter swore on the cross to "keep

Little Progress Made in Efforts To Prevent Gigantic Mine Strike

NEW YORK, March 27. (AP)—"no specific reports" to give the committee but that he wanted the leaders to be ready for any reports on week-end developments.

Era van Horn, Cleveland coal executive and chairman of the joint labor-management negotiators for the Appalachian bituminous industry made little progress toward a new general policy meeting over the new contract to replace the one expiring at midnight Monday.

Having announced earlier this week that the 330,000 miners in the eight-state Appalachian area would not work without a contract John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America (UMWA), said the miners demanded a $1-a-day wage increase was the principal "snag" in efforts to reach a contractual agreement by Monday night, but both admitted that there was "always a chance" of reaching agreement.

Group of Executives
This group comprises the "scale committee" which is empowered to ratify negotiating efforts of the sub-committee and is composed of executives of the twelve Appalachian union districts and forty-four miners.

Lewis said he had at this time, sessions would be advisable.

Presence of U. S. Ships in Pacific Warning to Japs

Movements of U. S. Navy Are Shrouded in Great Mystery

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP)—A cryptic statement by the United States navy stirred speculation tonight that American warships might be kept indefinitely in the South Pacific for the sake of their moral influence on Japan.

As a formidable squadron of seven fighting ships sailed away from Brisbane, Australia, Admiral Harold R. Stark, chief of operations, issued a statement that he had "no comment" as to its future destination.

The navy said the statement was occasioned by "inquiries."

The stay of the contingent of two heavy cruisers and five destroyers, commanded by Rear Admiral John H. Newton, already had been extended a week beyond the three-day visit the navy had said was contemplated.

Meanwhile the movements of a smaller force which visited New Zealand were screened in as complete official secrecy.

On Training Cruise

Both contingents were ostensibly on training cruises from their normal operating bases in Hawaii and they put into the British empire South Pacific ports for "good will and recreation."

The circumstances of the formal "no comment" statement just when Japan's foreign minister was in Berlin, suggested strongly that the state department and the navy's high command were at least willing to keep Tokyo guessing as to American intentions of strengthening anti-Axis defenses in the South Pacific.

Warning to Japan

Speculation that the cruise to those waters was an attempt to bring pressure on Japan has been voiced repeatedly in Tokyo since the first detachment of two light cruisers and four destroyers arrived March 16 at Auckland, New Zealand without advance announcement. In a Pacific war any attempt to blockade Japan would be based in the South Pacific, strategists agree.

Movements Mysterious

Three days later the heavy squadron headed by the heavy cruisers Chicago and Portland arrived at Sydney, Australia. The navy in both instances said the ships would pay an "informal visit of three days" and then would return to their normal operating bases at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii.

Instead the Australian detachment visited Melbourne and Brisbane as well as Sydney. The New Zealand contingent sailed from Auckland with no announcement of its destination.

were killed and 7,000 injured in recent raids on Bremen, German port and industrial center.

In night attacks on Hannover, the report added, 250 persons were killed, 250 houses destroyed and 500 grimly damaged and an area in the town center laid waste by explosives and incendiaries.

The service added: "German cities do not escape, morale of civilian population suffers and casualties are sometimes heavy."

Inland Cities Raided

The air ministry communiqué said planes of the bomber command, after a day of harassing raids on German naval and supply ships along the coast from the Frisian islands to Brittany, swept inland at night to drop heavy bombs with "good results."

Fires and explosions in railroad yards and factories at Duisburg and Cologne were reported by returning pilots.

Smaller forces of the same command attacked docks in the Dunkerque and Calais area and the German naval base at Brest. A supply ship in the harbor at Alderney, on the Channel islands, was declared hit directly.

Judge Stays

that in ordering the vote the board assumed power it did not have under the state labor law.

Defying leaders of the union, a group of production workers returned to their jobs today on the plea of national defense officials. Company representatives said 2,546 men were back, but Harold Christoffel, president of local 249, UAWA, stated less than 100 had returned.

The work stoppage, called by the union to enforce demands for union security, wage increases and seniority adjustments, has tied up $45,000,000 in vital government defense orders.

Denounces Knox, Knudsen
Addressing an early morning mass meeting, Christoffel denounced the order of Secretary of Navy Knox and OPM Director William S. Knudsen for the company to reopen the factory.

"It is a sorry situation when government agencies stoop so low as to act as strike breaking agencies," he declared. "That is what these two men are doing."

Christoffel said no effort would be made to prevent anyone from going to work but added, "of course, when the union goes back the seeds will be out of a job."

Hoover Says U. S. Will Have Place At Peace Table

May Be Able To Speak with Constructive Voice, He Asserts

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 28 (AP)—Herbert Hoover said tonight that America, pledged to aid Great Britain, "will sit at the world's peace table" when the war ends, and may be able to speak with a "more constructive and warning voice" if the nation does not become further involved in the conflict.

Stressing throughout his address, prepared for delivery at the annual dinner of the New Haven Y.M.C.A. that total war breeds the "total emotions" of "hate, intolerance and a spirit of exalting crusade," the former president urged the youth of the nation to consider experiences of the world war "for the light which they give upon our course for the future."

Three Appointments

"We have already made three positive appointments with destiny," he declared. "One is that we will sit at the world's peace table. Another is that we face the problems of war emotions and war psychosis. The other is that we shall meet the financial, economic and social aftermath of a war."

Predicting that "hate will again also sit at the peace table" as Versailles, Hoover continued:

"I am one who prays with all my being that America's sons should not be sent to this war. 'If God grants that we become no more deeply involved than we are today, we may be able to bring a more constructive and warning voice to the peace table. If our moral reservoirs are not drained by the full passions of war, we may bring sanity and compassion."

May Benefit World

"If our economic resources are still partly intact, we may be able to contribute something to restore another and a better world. If our faith in democracy is held high amid the storms of war economy, we may yet keep the lamp of liberty alight."

Hoover, asserting that "hate and fear lived on" after the Versailles treaty which "in part sowed the dragons' teeth of the present war," said the world war proved that "liberty, democracy and freedom could not be imposed on nations by battle x x x that intellectual ideas rattle in a thousand years of racial history cannot be uprooted with a machine gun."

Cites Own Experiences

Drawing on his own experiences as relief administrator in Europe to demonstrate the "total emotions" aroused by total war, the ex-president recalled that a few days after the armistice in 1918 he recommended lifting the blockade in order to get food to women and children in Germany and received "universal condemnation" in the Allied countries and in America for his suggestion.

"They demanded more starvation after the war was over," he said. "Starvation is the mother of generations of hate."

4 Publishers Named To Act as Source Of Md. Information

SAN RAFAEL, Calif., March 28 (AP)—Four Maryland publishers today were named to a nationwide committee formed by the National Editorial Association to act as an informative fact-finding organization on legislative affairs. Roy A. Brown, NEA president, announced the Maryland appointees were P. G. Stromberg of the Ellicott City Times; Paul Cronin of the Harford Democrat-Enterprise; Bel Air; David S. Jenkins of the Annapolis Capital-Gazette; and S. E. Shanahan of the Eastern Star Democrat.

The need for increased diligence by newspapers springs from various problems holding a threat of press curtailment, said Brown, publisher of the San Rafael Independent.

"The national editorial association believes it can best serve newspaper publishers by taking an interest in preventive legislation rather than taking legislation to the courts after it becomes law," NEA president said.

Roosevelt Sends Message to Peter

Extends Hope for Friendly Relations Between U. S. and Yugoslavia

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP)—President Roosevelt gave full recognition tonight to the new Yugoslavian government headed by the boy king, Peter II, and sent him a message encouraging him to resist Axis aggression.

"I extend the hope," the president said, "that the relations between your government and the government of the United States may be mutually beneficial in the support of those principles of liberty and tolerance cherished by the Yugoslav and American peoples."

Expresses Best Wishes

Mr. Roosevelt's message, made public by the state department, also asserted that he wished to join with the American people "in the expression of our sincere and genuine wishes for the health and well-being of your majesty and for the freedom and independence of Yugoslavia."

The message threw the whole weight of the government behind the encouragement given yesterday to the new Yugoslavian regime by Sumner Welles, undersecretary of state, who virtually promised the Balkan kingdom that aid would be forthcoming under the Lend-Lease policy if Germany launched an attack.

No Official Report

The government here had received no official communication tonight to indicate just what Yugoslavia was planning to do about the pact linking her with the Axis.

Arthur Bliss Lane, American minister in Yugoslavia, talked to the state department by telephone late today. He reported that enthusiasm still ran high in Yugoslavia but that perfect order was being maintained.

In his telephone conversation, Lane reported that no American interests had been interfered with or affected during the bloodless coup d'état.

Hopes To Break

ture outside would be to invite beatings.

But to the jubilant Belgrade public, the center of the universe today was not in the council chambers of the frontier redoubts, but the altar of the Serb orthodox cathedral in Belgrade.

There 17-year-old King Peter stood in the bright uniform of a general of aviation.

The Patriarch, in red and gold robes, presented a golden cross. Peter reverently kissed it and solemnly intoned:

"I, Peter the Second, ascending to the throne of the kingdom of Yugoslavia and taking over royal power, swear by God the Almighty that I will keep forever the unity of the nation, the independence of the country, and the integrity of state territory."

The dimly lit old building echoed to the shouts of the assembled throng.

The rest of the government took their oaths amid noisy confusion. The U. S. and British ministers, who attended, had to fend off good-naturedly the handshakes and kisses of the crowd when they entered the cathedral.

U. S. Military Attache Cal. Louis Fortier was elevated to the shoulders of sturdy Serbs amid exclamations of "long live Roosevelt! long live America!"

The crowd knew that U. S. Minister Lane had offered American aid and that he told Premier Simovic and Foreign Minister Momicich Nincich on behalf of President Roosevelt that the Yugoslav coup had caused "an immediate and popular reaction in America," that it was "a matter of self-congratulation for every liberty-loving man and woman."

The pro-German newspaper Vreme assumed a pro-British tone. Its editor, Danilo Gregoric, who went to Germany to prepare the way for the Axis pact, was reported under arrest.

One prominent citizen summed up the public attitude in this fashion: "If this government doesn't resist (Germany) we'll get another that will."

Sergeant and His Girl Denied Food By Hotel Manager

General Record To Probe Charge of Maryland Non-Com

FORT GEORGE G. MEADE, Md., March 28 (AP)—Major General Milton A. Record, commanding officer of the twenty-ninth division, said today he would demand an explanation from one of Washington's hotels for allegedly having refused to serve dinner to one of the division's sergeants and a woman companion.

The sergeant reported, General Record said, that he and his companion had been asked to leave the hotel's dining room because he was in uniform. General Record declared such an act "an insult to the uniform of the United States."

First Soldier Barred

The incident occurred last Saturday night, according to the sergeant's report which reached General Record today through military channels. It is the first of its type to be brought officially to the commanding officer's attention since the division was mobilized in February.

"On the night of March 22, accompanied by a young lady," the sergeant reported, "I went into the dining room of the hotel x x x and proceeded to order dinner."

"The order was taken and shortly afterward the manager came over and informed me in the presence of the young lady that it was a House rule in that particular establishment not to serve soldiers in uniform the did not distinguish between officers and enlisted men and requested us to leave."

No Drinks Ordered

"We had neither been drinking alcoholic beverages nor had we ordered any in that place and we had conducted ourselves, as usual, in a manner becoming a lady and a gentleman."

General Record said he intended to ask the manager of the hotel "for a specific statement with respect to the incident" and intimated that if the report is borne out in its entirety he might ask officers of the division to remain away from the hotel.

"When this strike is over will you give us a barrel of beer to celebrate?"

"I'll give you fifty barrels," the governor promised. "Yes, and I'll make good on it too."

New York Reporter Ousted from Johnstown

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., March 28 (AP)—A news representative of the New York "Daily Worker" one-time organ of the Communist party, was ejected from Johnstown tonight by a delegation of men, who identified themselves as members of the CIO Steel Workers Organizing Committee.

David Lurie was eating dinner with Joseph H. Shea, labor editor of the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette, when the delegation entered the dining room.

"Come on, you're going out of town," Shea quoted the delegation's spokesman as saying to Lurie. "I'm an American citizen; I pay my taxes and I don't have to leave," Lurie replied.

"You'll either get out of town right now or you'll be hurt," retorted the spokesman for the committee.

Whereupon Lurie's hat and coat were handed to him, he was escorted to his automobile, driven to the city limits and told not to return.

"We are going to have a peaceable strike and we don't intend to have such people around to stir up trouble," Shea reported the committee as adding.

Hagersdown To Have Own Moving Picture

HAGERSTOWN, Md., March 28 (AP)—The Hagerstown Junior Chamber of Commerce today started work on the filming of a moving picture which will depict the activities of the town and its citizens.

Filming started with the "shooting" of the town's churches. Camera men will follow during the next several days with scenes which will make up the full length movie to be shown in the high school auditorium April 8 and 9.

Mrs. Lois Benton is the production company's representative supervising work locally.

Dr. Hand Charges Rich Have Best Chance in School

Declares "Dice Are Loaded" 11 to 1 against Poor Students

COLLEGE PARK, Md., March 28 (AP)—Dr. Harold C. Hand, professor of educational administration at the University of Maryland told 1,500 Southern Maryland teachers today that "the dice are loaded 11 to 1" against the financially poor public school student in Maryland.

"Those who most desperately need what education has to offer," Dr. Hand said, "are most likely not to stay in school because of economic conditions beyond their control."

Dr. Hand was principal speaker at the third annual Southern Maryland regional conference of the Maryland State Teachers' Association. Teachers attended from Anne Arundel, Calvert, Charles, Montgomery, Prince George's and St. Mary's counties.

Dr. H. C. Byrd, president of the University, greeted the teachers at the general conference meeting.

"It is 11 times as easy for the son of a rich family to get a high school education as it is for the son of a poor family," Dr. Hand said.

"Contrary to popular belief, our free schools are not free, but cost an average of $125 a year per pupil including the various fees."

The speaker said he referred to laboratory, athletic, locker and other such fees, including lunches.

"And the poor student cannot buy as much social status as the rich one, even in the public high schools," he added.

"The time has come when these costs will have to be borne by taxes if we are going to have a democratic school system with education equally available to all."

Germany Sending 200,000 Troops Into the Balkans

ANKARA, Turkey, March 28 (AP)—Germany is sending an additional 200,000 troops into Bulgaria to augment her striking force already estimated at more than 300,000, a neutral diplomat who came from Bucharest by way of Sofia said tonight.

Unofficial reports also said that British troops continued to land in Greece including the key Aegean port of Salonika.

Gov. Heil To Give Milwaukee Strikers 50 Barrels of Beer

MILWAUKEE, March 28 (AP)—Governor Julius Heil fraternized with strikers outside the Allis-Chalmers company plant today — and promised to buy them fifty barrels of beer when the strike was settled.

He handed out dollar bills to two young daughters of one of the strikers, had a CIO button pinned on his lapel, gave a dollar to another worker, and played chauffeur to a striker who wanted a lift to strike headquarters.

One of a group called out to the governor: "When this strike is over will you give us a barrel of beer to celebrate?"

"I'll give you fifty barrels," the governor promised. "Yes, and I'll make good on it too."

Strike Called at Bethlehem Steel

establishment of the ERP, that were advanced by the union in negotiations at Bethlehem, Pa.

The four-point compromise program accepted unanimously by union members in settling the Bethlehem strike did not provide specifically, however, for dis-establishment of the ERP.

Briefly, it called for reinstatement of strikers without loss of seniority; and for continued collective bargaining between the company and representatives of the employees; specified the company would not discriminate in its collective bargaining dealings and deferred further action on the selection of an exclusive bargaining agency until the ERP case has been settled finally in the courts.

John Riffe, assistant SWOC director, said the agreement had been "reduced to writing" and hailed it as the first "ever obtained with Bethlehem Steel."

"Under this agreement we can continue to get concessions if we are a state."

R. A. Lewis, general manager of the Bethlehem, Pa., plant, said in a statement:

Bethlehem Statement
"We are glad the strike is over. "The efforts that were made successfully to restore and maintain law and order so that the men could go to and from work were an important contributing factor in reaching an early agreement."

"Federal and state conciliators deserve the highest praise for the splendid work which they did in bringing about the settlement."

At Lackawanna, N. Y., a union meeting charged the company with "failure to live up to the spirit" of a government-proposed settlement of an earlier strike, and authorized leaders to call a new walkout "at their discretion."

The walkout at Johnstown began about 7:30 a. m. an hour and a half before the ERP reported, ballot boxes had been placed in the mills. State and federal mediators were ordered here immediately after the walkout started.

Phones He's Dead To Escape Draft

But Commissioner Doesn't Believe Stewart and Arrests Him

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 28 (AP)—Everett Stewart, 24, who reported his own death to a local draft board last month was very much alive tonight and under $1,000 bond on a warrant charging violation of the Selective Service Act.

Arraigned before United States Commissioner Ray Kirchdorfer, Stewart related that:

He filed out his questionnaire, but, in January, when he was notified to report for examination, his "girl" decided she couldn't give him up.

Pretending he was his half brother, Stewart called the draft board and reported "he" was sick in a Louisville, Ky., hospital. On February 20, he again telephoned his local board, and still pretending he was his half brother, announced "his death."

A draft board official, however, asked the name of the undertaker who buried "him" and he gave the name of a Louisville undertaker "because I didn't think about 'em calling him."

Today Deputy United States Marshal Robert Milligan appeared at a plant where Stewart was employed. The youth spotted the marshal and ran from the building but was captured.

"I was just on my way to the draft board," he told Milligan when arrested.

Pilot Blamed for Crash of Airliner

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board found today that the crash of a United Air Lines plane at Chicago December 4, in which three crew members and seven passengers were killed, was due to the failure of Captain Philip Scott, the pilot, to exercise the necessary "caution and skill."

The board made seven recommendations as a result of its investigation, principally concerning the installation of facilities to warn of imminent stalls and to provide proper vision for pilots under adverse weather conditions.

Captain Scott, the board said, failed to do what was needed to avert a stall and made an error in judgment in choosing the short northwest runway at the municipal airport for a landing.

William Fox Indicted On Conspiracy Charge

PHILADELPHIA, March 28 (AP)—A retired U. S. Circuit Court judge, William Fox of movie fame and one of his attorneys were indicted today on a charge of conspiracy to obstruct justice in court matters dealing with bankruptcy proceedings on portions of Fox's once vast $35,000,000 financial empire.

A federal grand jury specifically instructed by Attorney General Robert H. Jackson reported it found evidence that Fox and Morgan S. Kaufman knew that Judge J. Warren Davis, while on the bench "would be interested in and would accept and receive x x x sums of money and other presents" in return for "action favorable" to Fox.

The 62-year-old bald-headed producer whose motion pictures made screen history stepped to the bar immediately after the charge was made, entered a plea of guilty, and from his pocket paid out five $1,000 bills for bond.

County May Take Over Juvenile Cases

ROCKVILLE, Md., March 28 (AP)—Possibility that Montgomery county take over direct supervision of juvenile court charges was seen here today, after a request from the Social Service League that the commissioners take such action.

Dr. J. W. Bird, president of the league, was instructed by the county commissioners to provide figures showing the number of children who may properly be classified as public charges.

Dr. Bird, in asking that the county welfare department give some aid to the league, said his organization is supposed to care only for cases not subject to funds benefits.

The Social Service League is supported by community chest funds.

Another Contract For Ford Company

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP)—The war department disclosed today the award of a $1,417,000 contract for motor trucks to the Ford Motor Company.

The order was on behalf of the Civilian Conservation Corps, the department said. It omitted a provision stipulating compliance with labor laws "where applicable" which stirred a controversy recently over previous orders to Ford.

The labor compliance requirement was omitted. It was explained, because the order was not a defense contract. It was for 1,786 one and one-half ton trucks, for which funds came from CCC appropriations.

tablets. All were expected to recover. New Drug Found Useful
Sulphathiazole is a new drug which physicians have found useful in checking many different diseases.

Dr. Fishbein said the product which has been improperly prepared could be distinguished by the number MP029, distributed by the Winthrop Chemical Company of New York, one of the country's largest drug concerns.

The vast majority of sulphathiazole now on the market, Dr. Fishbein emphasized, is quite safe when competently administered by a physician.

French Stage Big Demonstration in Honor of Serbs

Place Flowers on Spot in Marseille where Alexander Died

(By The Associated Press)
MARSEILLE, France, March 28—Buoyant French by many thousands poured today and tonight through La Canebiere, Marseille's proudest promenade, singing and shouting their joy in the resurgence of Yugoslavia and heaping a mountain of flowers about the spot where King Alexander I was assassinated seven years ago.

It was a spontaneous demonstration which swelled in size and volume by the hour, and 200 police, who were called out were unable to halt it.

Assembled by nothing more than the whispered word that Yugoslavia had defied Berlin, the Marseillais milled through the promenade and into the Place De La Bourse at the harbor end, crying "long live Serbia!" and singing La Marseillaise.

This anthem of France and its stirring "marchons! marchons!" was carried through France by the revolutionary volunteers of Marseille in 1792.

Late in the day, all florist shops were closed to prevent the demonstrations from continuing. Within an hour or so wreaths and bouquets made of paper began piling up on top of the natural blossoms before the plaque commemorating Alexander's memory in the Place De La Bourse.

Police tried roping this area off, but little children squirmed through their legs to toss posies and their fathers and mothers swarmed on Marseille's clanging trolley cars, showering the space with flowers from the windows as they rode past.

The loudest cheers of all came when members of the Yugoslav colony and the "poilus of the east association" arrived to decorate the monument.

Crowds Remain Orderly
Throughout it all the crowds in this capital of French refugees were orderly and no clashes of arrests were reported.

(No mention of the Marseille incidents was made in Vichy, capital of unoccupied France. Marseille has been the principal center of resistance to French collaboration with Germany's so-called new order.)

King Alexander, father of 17-year-old King Peter of Yugoslavia, was assassinated here with the French foreign minister, Louis Barthelemy, when he arrived on a good will mission Oct. 9, 1934. The actual assassin, a Croat terrorist, was slain on the spot. Three Croats were sentenced to life imprisonment for complicity in 1936.

PRUNE BLACK RASPBERRIES TWICE A YEAR

Differing from many other shrubs, black raspberries require pruning twice a year. The bushes should have their first pruning after they have finished fruiting. At this time the old fruiting canes are cut out. These should be burned, to check any disease or insects from spreading to the new shoots. Pruning out these old canes also favors the development of the young canes. Prunings should be cut out for they bear little or not fruit, yet sap strength from the plant.

June is the time for a second pruning. When the plants have grown to a height of 24 to 30 inches, the tip of each shoot should be pinched back to about 20 to 22 inches. This makes the canes stocky and forces growth of numerous shoots which will bear next year's fruit.

PINCHING BACK TIPS
PRODUCES NUMEROUS SHOOTS

New plants of black raspberries are formed by the rooting of the tips of the shoots, toward the end of the growing season. If no new plants are wanted, clip off the ends of any stems before they touch the ground.

When the soil is poor it can be greatly improved by raking out the large stones and adding peat, plus a balanced plant food. The peat should be spaded deeply into the surface soil. The rain will carry it to the plant's roots.

Vegetable seeds should be planted in rows running north and south. This gives the plants all the sunlight possible.

A thick, self-branching ivy which has many branches springing from the base of the main stem is called Hahn's Self-Branching Ivy. This ivy's leaves are small and of a rich green coloring. Occasionally a runner grows long but it can easily be cut back.

Regardless of what weather may follow, at the earliest possible date plant shade trees, shrubs, dormant roses and evergreens.

They Were the Smartest Saboteurs in the Service but the Old Sea Captain Knew a Trick or Two Himself

By PAUL HART

The job was done!

preventing it, but the Palmouth must not sail for England!"

"But, Lucien! The Palmouth's cargo is no secret! In all the papers for the last week notices have appeared about the kind of war supplies in the cargo. And Capt. Peabody is no green tyro himself!"

"I did not attain my place as head of the agency here by being obtuse about such pertinent things, West!" Lucien Culom said quietly. "As a matter of fact, I remember Peabody from the last war, when he was a lieutenant in the blockade force. But every man is top-heavy somewhere, even Peabody!"

"Time is at a premium, chief. The Palmouth will be loaded with her war supplies and weighing anchor within the week. What would you suggest?"

Culom weighed his answer. "I appreciate the fact that, due to the importance of the cargo and the fact that the Palmouth is a British bottom, there are rather extraordinary precautions to protect the ship from damage in port!"

"That's just it! Anything as large as a bomb could not be carried overbalanced, top-heavy about something I can only suggest that the girl. Matter of fact, that's partly why I persuaded her to bringing me along as a chaperon today. But she's really very serious about knowing your part of the work she is assisting in at the war relief agency!"

"The ship sails in five days, chief. I will see that it never reaches its destination!" West promised confidently.

"Using a woman as a foil to divert suspicion is always good, Mona, but this time it must be a superior performance!" The saboteur warned the comeliest of his aids while later. "You must strike up an acquaintance with Capt. Peabody. I will provide you with letters from a war relief agency."

"I can manage all right!" the girl said. "Leave the captain to me. What you want is a chance to get aboard, is that it?"

West nodded.

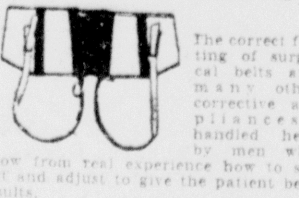

"An old trick—but a good one!" He gingerly lifted what appeared to be a rather large fountain pen from an upright stand in a desk drawer. "Inside this pen rests a very ingenious device. Phosphorous and magnesium on top, and a tiny vial of acid below with a small opening. One tilt and the acid eats through a thin copper tissue and . . . whoot! A beautiful fire!"

"You'll get a chance to go aboard with me on a tour of inspection on Capt. Peabody's beautiful ship!" Mona promised. "And I'll give you opportunity to lose your pen!"

"It is rather against custom to have visitors aboard just now, Mr. West, even when one of them happens to be as fine a young lady as your niece!" Capt. Peabody solemnly warned the agent as the trio stood on the well deck and prepared to make a survey of the trim vessel. "This is war for us, you know!"

"Mona is adventurous, Capt. Peabody!" West laughed with good

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for March 23, is Luke 24:36-53; the Golden Text being Luke 24:49. "Behold, I send forth the promise of My Father upon you.")

IN LAST week's lesson, you remember, our Lord was put to death by His enemies and His body was consigned to the tomb of His friend, Joseph of Arimathea. The women who loved Him "beheld the sepulchre and how the body was laid," and, after procuring spices and ointments to anoint the body, they left Him and went to observe the Sabbath.

Today we omit the scene at the tomb when the Marys went to anoint the body and found it gone, and take up our story when the disciples were gathered together talking, after some of them had seen the Risen Lord.

"And as they thus spake, Jesus Himself stood in the midst of them, and saith unto them, Peace be unto you," the typical eastern greeting.

In spite of what they had heard of Jesus' resurrection from the dead, the disciples were "terrified and affrighted, and supposed that they had seen a spirit."

"And He said unto them, Why are ye troubled? and why do thoughts arise in your hearts? Behold My hands and My feet, that I am myself, handle Me, and see, for a spirit hath not flesh and bones, as ye see Me have."

Begin to Rejoice
At those words, they began to rejoice, but still could not believe, so Jesus asked them if they had any food, and when they brought some He ate it to show them that it was indeed He risen from the dead. He reminded them how He had told them before His death that He would rise again to fulfill the law as written in Moses and the prophets concerning Him. "Then opened He their understanding, that they might understand the scriptures."

And further He said: "Thus it is written, and thus it behoved Christ to suffer, and to rise from the dead the third day: 'And that repentance and remission of sins should be preached in His name among all the nations, beginning at Jerusalem. And ye are witnesses of these things.'"

The disciples were to start their preaching at Jerusalem, but were told to tarry awhile, "until ye be endued with power from on high"—the Holy Ghost.

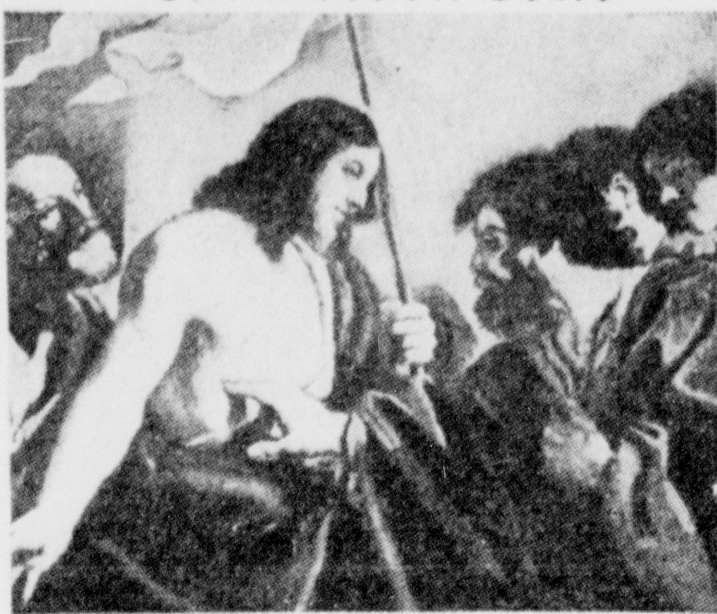

Then He led them on the road to Jerusalem as far as Bethany, and He lifted up His hands and blessed them.

"And it came to pass, while He blessed them, He was parted from them, and carried up into heaven. All their fear had left them now. The 11 disciples left after the tragedy of Judas' treason and self-destruction, were filled with great joy. Heretofore, when they had met together they were in terror of arrest, and were most careful who was admitted to their presence. But their Master had returned, and although He had again been taken away, they had their instructions to spread the gospel throughout the nations and to fear not. So they worshiped Jesus and returned to Jerusalem, with great joy, where they were 'continually in the temple,' openly praising and blessing God."

"Behold My hands and My feet, that I am myself, handle Me, and see, for a spirit hath not flesh and bones, as ye see Me have."

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Not long ago I told of the reports of Dr. David Ayman, of Boston, on his high blood pressure patients. He became convinced that when he took the blood pressure of a patient in his office, it was higher than it should be. The mere fact of the presence of the doctor taking the blood pressure caused the patient to become nervous and jump the reading up. He found that he could teach patients to take their blood pressure themselves at home and when they made a record of this, it was entirely different from the record of the blood pressure made in the doctor's office.

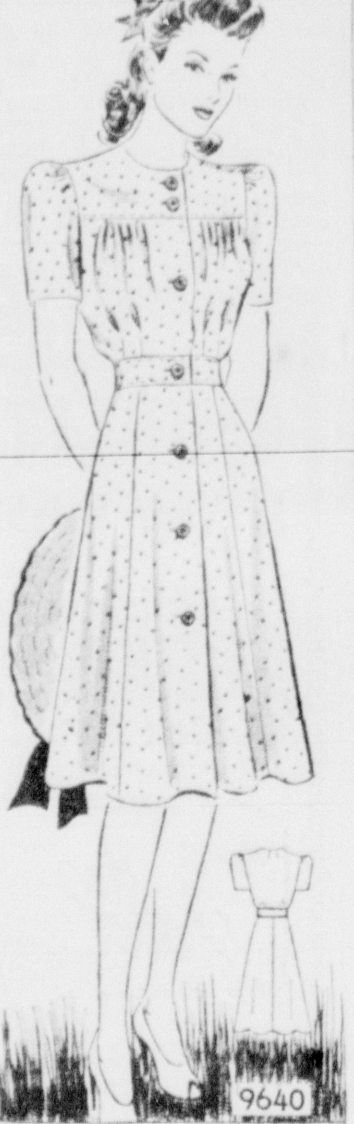

This certainly is sound sense. In hospitals we can teach a previously untrained technician or nurse to take the blood pressure in five minutes. There is no reason why the patient cannot be taught to do it. It is a very simple procedure and there is also no doubt that a blood pressure taken under circumstances when the patient is nervous is higher than it actually should be. All life insurance examiners and agents know this to be the fact. I have taken blood pressure readings on life insurance applicants hundreds of times and found them too high for acceptance by the medical department of the home company. At a second reading, when the applicants were not so apprehensive, they were twenty to thirty points down.

The physiology of this is also quite understandable on the basis of our knowledge of the mechanism of the blood vessels. The blood pressure is not a stable thing; it changes as often and for the same reasons as the pulse. Blushing is merely a form of change in the pressure, made by the muscular coats of the blood vessels. When you blush, the vessels in your face are relaxed, and everybody acknowledges that this is due to nervous-

Dutch Steal One Sub, Sink Second

By JOHN A. MOROSO, III

JERSEY CITY, N. J. March 28.—A Dutch professor said here his countrymen launched two submarines after the Germans invaded Holland and this happened.

One, carrying a Dutch crew and a few German officers, kept right on going at its launching until it reached England.

The second carried a German crew to death.

The story of the submarines, said Dr. Peter De Bruyn, 31, of Leiden, Holland, was typical of the way the Dutch were resisting the German occupation.

Dr. De Bruyn, who arrived on the American Export liner Siboney from Lisbon with his wife and two children, said the first submarine was nearly completed at a Rotterdam shipyard when the Germans invaded the country.

The Germans told the shipyard to continue with the work, he said, adding that when the vessel was completed, the Germans put aboard a Dutch crew and a few Nazi officers.

"The sub kept right on going at the launching, to England," he said. "Our grapevine in Holland told us that the sub arrived safely."

When the second submarine was finished a few months later, the Germans put an all-German crew aboard, he said, and declared:

"This submarine went down—to the bottom."

The Germans were reported by him to be so incensed that they arrested eighty engineers and ship workers and executed eighteen.

Dr. De Bruyn is on his way to the University of Chicago to teach neurology.

Leaders of Parent-Teacher Group Praised for Co-operative Spirit

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph. D.

We parents to whom nothing else can mean quite so much as our children, ought to be able, on this account, to extend our interest to the welfare of other people's children.

Practically all our P-TA leaders, from the president of the local P-TA to the president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers have been parents themselves. Sometimes their children are grown.

Since by its very nature the P-TA centers about the child of the community, parent-teacher work is a kind of mothering job spreading to all children of the neighborhood. The character of parent-teacher service renders it a self-denying and unselfish activity. And every leader serves without pay.

Co-operation of Workers If you will observe parent-teacher leaders, local, state and national, you will witness a kind of co-operation among these leaders hardly so prevalent in any other organization. Ending her term, the local or state president cheerfully serves when asked (and she is often asked). You and I know some great local and state P-TA leaders who have continued to serve effectively in some smaller or larger capacity for years and years. Do you know any other organization in which this occurs as frequently?

hood and happier homes. Recently I saw at work many preschool study groups of the P-TA and I learned also of a very active high school parent-teacher association which is not so commonly found throughout the United States. Study group leaders or single parents who wish to receive a selected list of pamphlets and books of family life and child guidance in the home, may have such without cost by writing me in care of this paper, enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it.

Garrett County Historical Society Publishes Paper

First Issue of the Glades Star Contains Interesting Data

OAKLAND, March 28—The first issue of The Glades Star, published by the Garrett County Historical Society, is being distributed this week.

The publication gets its name from the first newspaper published by E. S. Zevely in what is now Garrett county. It began publication in August, 1871, but lived only a few months. Its influence was largely instrumental in stirring up sentiment in favor of forming a new county.

The purpose of the present Glades Star will be to record the activities of the Historical Society and will contain data and articles on local history. In this issue are articles on the society itself its constitution, an invitation to enroll as a member of the group, some local history, as published by Charles Brown December 18, 1902, in The Republican; a proclamation by the governor in 1872 making this territory a separate county. It also carries pictures of Mesach Brownings cabin at Sang Run; Joseph E. Harned, author of "Wild Flowers of the Alleghenies," who has been engaged in the drug business in Oakland for fifty years; and of Fred A. Thayer in his younger days. Mr. Thayer is 86 years of age and has been practicing law in Oakland since 1883, a total of fifty-seven years. At the initial meeting of the historical society he was named temporary president but he resigned on account of ill health. Charles E. Hove succeeded him.

The members of the society are inviting and urging interested persons to enroll.

Labor Board Sends Representative To Probe Martinsburg Mill Strike

MARTINSBURG, W. Va., March 28 (AP)—The National Labor Relations Board stepped into the strike at the Intervenor Stocking Company plant today, calling a conference to determine whether there is ground for a union charge that the concern refused to negotiate.

W. M. Aicher of Baltimore, NLRB representative, said today's conference was exploratory and if basis is found for the union complaint, a formal hearing will be ordered.

Aicher, director of the Fifth region, said after the meeting with G. W. F. Mullis, vice-president and plant manager, and Julian Caldwell of the American Federation of Hosiery Workers (CIO) that no announcement would be expected for several days.

Meanwhile, the management announcement that about 400 workers entered the plant, Caldwell insisted that reports to the union indicated the number had increased but little and the "mill is still at a standstill in production and shipment."

Those returning today entered in groups, but there was no disturbance.

This was payday, with workers drawing wages earned for the last two weeks they were on the job prior to calling of the strike March 22.

The mill does not operate on Saturday.

Hardy Sportsmen Back Keyser Man For State Post

Harley Staggers Endorsed for Conservation Commission Director

MOOREFIELD, W. Va., March 28—The Hardy County Fish and Game Association sent a telegram this week to Governor M. M. Neely urging the appointment of Harley O. Staggers, Keyser, for the position of director of the Conservation Commission. Major H. W. Shawhan, director of the Commission under the Holt administration was called to active duty with the army last week.

The sportsmen pointed out in the telegram that Staggers was well qualified for the work and was solidly backed by the eastern part of the state, which is West Virginia's hunting and fishing area. The former appointee was from the southern part of the state. Staggers' term as sheriff of Mineral county ended January 1.

Firemen Meet

C. H. Pike, representing the West Virginia Fire Insurance Underwriters Bureau, spoke to the Moorefield Volunteer Fire Company last night, outlining the minimum requirements necessary to change Moorefield from a Class VIII risk to a Class VII town.

Firemen have been working for the past several months to secure a reduction in fire insurance rates and asked for recommendations from the bureau.

Pike's suggestion was to house the pump house in a masonry structure instead of frame, to make a complete map of the town's water system, showing all valves and hydrants, to clean and grease all hydrants semi-annually, to conduct regular drills semi-monthly and make regular inspections, to have at least two men sleep at the firehouse at night, and to secure a suitable piece of reserve apparatus.

The firemen are meeting three of the above suggestions at present.

Pike entered into a general round-table discussion with the firemen regarding fire rates and pointed out that Moorefield, like most small towns, did not have a building code or ordinance. "All small towns", said Pike, "should have an ordinance preventing the construction of frame structures in the business section of town". He pointed out that the difference in the cost of such buildings was small and that in a short time the savings in insurance rates would make up the difference in the original cost.

Lantz Paskel, chairman of the fire extinguisher committee, reported his group was starting the annual work of refilling and repairing all fire extinguishers in business houses. For the past three years, the firemen have been conducting this service. The firemen repair and refill the soda acid and foam and the carbon tetrachloride extinguishers for a moderate fee.

The damaged section of hose which was sent back to the factory for inspection will be returned and placed with the auxiliary equipment.

The publication gets its name from the first newspaper published by E. S. Zevely in what is now Garrett county. It began publication in August, 1871, but lived only a few months. Its influence was largely instrumental in stirring up sentiment in favor of forming a new county.

The purpose of the present Glades Star will be to record the activities of the Historical Society and will contain data and articles on local history. ## Meyersdale Quarters Too Small, NYA Wood-Working Shop To Move

Project To Be Transferred to Boynton Soon, Officials Announce

MEYERSDALE, Pa., March 28—The wood-working shop that has been sponsored by the National Youth Administration during the past two years in Meyersdale will be moved to Boynton, a hamlet located midway between Meyersdale and Garrett, within the near future.

The plant, which had been located in the old pottery shop on Broadway street, has outgrown the housing facilities, and there seems to be no other building in town at present vacant that would be suitable for the purpose. Boynton offers a more spacious building that formerly housed the plant of the Twentieth Century Manufacturing Company, which several years ago manufactured traction engines and other farm machinery.

The NYA workshop employs thirty-seven boys and girls between the ages of 18 and 25. With orders now on hand, fifty more youths could be given employment, but the floor space in the present building is not ample to provide working space for those already employed.

The boys and girls employed in this plant are paid at the rate of thirty cents an hour while learning the trade, and the wage income during the past two years has averaged approximately $1,600 a month. A. E. Sorenson, formerly of Pittsburgh, but a resident of Meyersdale for the past year, a professional instructor in woodcraft, has charge of the enterprise.

Plans were made for a covered dish supper to be held early in April at the meeting of the Women's Christian Service Society in the recreation hall of the Methodist church last night.

Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament and prayers for the Novena of Our Lady of the Miraculous Medal will be held Saturday evening at 7 o'clock at St. Patrick's Catholic church. After the services confessions will be heard.

W. Va. Chamber of Commerce Sees 'More Stable Economy' for State

CHARLESTON, W. Va., March 28 (AP)—Rapidly expanding domestic building and disbursements at West Virginia defense centers promise "boomlike activity" in future months and "a more stable economy" for West Virginia in coming years, the State Chamber of Commerce declared today.

At the same time, the chamber noted in its review of January-February business that industrial wages are "a modest 6.5 per cent ahead of 1940, which probably indicates the approach of the saturation point for employment in West Virginia's present industrial establishment."

"It is clear, nevertheless," the review added, "that West Virginia employment, specifically activated at South Charleston and Morgantown defense projects will continue to rise for at least six months."

Of building, the chamber said:

"The dollar volume of West Virginia's domestic building construction for the first two months of 1941 was $8,523,317, as compared with $4,863,191 for the same months of 1940, an increase of 77.7 per cent.

"The expenditure of these millions, along with soaring contractual disbursements at national defense enterprises in South Charleston and Morgantown promises boom-like activity."

Longfellows Win Annual Debate At Central High

Verdict Unanimous; Individual $5 Prize Awarded to Harry Dixon

LONACONING, March 28—The thirty-seventh annual inter-society debate between the Longfellow and Irving literary societies of Central high school was held tonight. The decision of the judges was 3-0 in favor of the Longfellow society. Harry Dixon was awarded the $5 individual prize.

The Irving society was represented by Esther Klipstein, Esther Stakem, Edward Nolan and Melvin Whitefield, while the Longfellows were represented by Wilma Mackey, Mary Goodwin William Moyer and Harry Dixon.

The Irvings have won fifteen and the Longfellows twenty-two.

The Longfellow society has the affirmative side of the question, "Resolved: That the recent trend toward increase in the power of the federal government is inimical to the general welfare of the people of the United States."

Coaches for the Irving society were Miss Helen Groves, Miss Alberts Mayer and John H. Armstrong; for the Longfellow society, Mrs. Hilda Byers, Mrs. Margaret B. Sloan and Lowell M. Sowers.

Debates between the two literary societies have been held annually since 1905. Last year, the Irvings won by a unanimous decision in the inter-scholastic contest. In the inter-scholastic debates, both Longfellow and Irvings were victorious with the Longfellows later defeated by Fort Hill high school in a run-off contest.

The inter-scholastic contest will be held next Friday, April 4.

Judges for the contest were Dr. Elizabeth Atwater, Potomac State college, Keyser, W. Va., and Jesse W. Stephenson and Harry Caldwell, both of the Keyser high school, Keyser, W. Va.

Other Buildings Must Also Be Moved in Re-Building of Bridges

PARSONS, W. Va., March 28.—The largest construction job in Parsons for many years will be started in a few weeks, with the rebuilding of the Shaver's Fork bridge, the Black Ford bridge and several hundred feet of new road.

The contract for the Shaver's Fork bridge has been awarded to Monty Brothers construction company, of Charleston, which will start work soon, but the contract for the Blackford bridge must be opened on April 8. The bids for the Parsons streets and approaches to the new bridges were opened on March 25. The distance of road construction is about one-half mile. The new road will start at Pennsylvania avenue, pass in front of Swisher's dwelling and from that point will parallel the Western Maryland railroad right-of-way to a point 1,500 feet east of the Blackford of Chest river, at which point it will interest U. S. Route 219 and will extend beyond that point for 450 feet above the U. S. forest nursery.

To complete these projects, it is necessary to move the Parsons city hall, Swisher's grist mill and several homes in Bretz, on the outskirts of this city. Plans for the removal of the city building have not been completed. Several sites have been considered for temporary headquarters, but the city council has made no decision.

Permits Required

Many farmers and other persons who have yet to clear their land and burn brush this spring will find it necessary to secure brush-burning permits, as the State brush burning law became effective March 20 and will continue until May 20, at which time the spring fire season comes to an end. Many persons have been unable to do their brush burning up to this time because of severe cold and heavy snows in this section.

Range R. L. Rowland, Parsons, advises that permits will be issued at the Parsons Ranger station. When no officials are in the ranger office, permits will be issued at the U. S. Forest Nursery office by D. A. Oliver.

West Virginia law requires a written permit, issued after a written application, for burning grass, stubble brush or slash from March 20 to May 20.

Penalties for violations are fines of not less than $20 nor more than $100, or confinement to jail for not less than ten nor more than 100 days, or both, upon conviction. Arrangements have been made to simplify making application for permits. All lookouts on duty may receive applications and phone them to the Parsons Ranger station, and permits will be mailed from there.

Births Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Pitt, Parsons, announce the birth of a seven and one-half pound son, Wednesday morning at the Tucker County hospital. The mother is the former Miss Rosalie DeVilder, Parsons.

Stocks Decline Fractions to Two Points; Rail Shares Are Strong

Trading Is Dull and No Reason Is Given for Bad Day

By FREDERICK GARDNER

NEW YORK, March 28 (AP)—The stock market today gave up all of its rallying advantage of the preceding session without any particularly adverse news to account for the backslide.

Motors and steels weakened and closing recessions ranged from fractions to nearly two points. There were a few wider dips.

The one encouraging straw in the retreat was the slackening of volume. Transfers totalled 442,610 shares against 551,190 the day before.

Rails, generally, again were buoyed by the brightening traffic outlook. Aside from Union Pacific, which unaccountably fell to a new year's low, most held declines to minor amounts.

Chrysler was another leader to reach new low ground for 1941.

Prominent shares on the reversal included U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Douglas Aircraft, American Telephone, Anaconda, American Can, General Electric, Du Pont, Philip Morris, U. S. Rubber, Consolidated Edison, Pere Marquette, preferred and Montgomery Ward.

Emerging with modest improvement were Loft, Westinghouse, International Harvester and Texas Corp., Universal Pictures and Paramount.

In a spotty curb plus signs were retained by Electric Bond and Share, American Cyanamid, B. Williams, Dredging, "Nag" McWilliams, Power and Pantepec. On the losing end were Aluminum of America, Humble Oil, Creole Petroleum, Bell Aircraft and Republic Aviation. The turnover was around 94,000 shares versus 110,000 Thursday.

Rail Bonds Advance

NEW YORK, March 28 (AP)—Railroad bonds lost some of their steam today but nevertheless a sizable number attracted enough support to push into new high ground for the year.

The general market was mixed, with industrials leaning slightly to the upside, utilities a shade ahead, foreign loans attaining a new 1941 high and the low-yield group dropping to a new low for the year.

Transactions of $12,228,300, par value, were substantially under $15,559,800 on Thursday when extreme activity in some of the low-priced rails carried the total turnover to the best levels since early in the year.

To Broadcast Easter Services from Grand Canyon

From the banks of the Colorado river deep in the Grand Canyon and from the towering rim of the chasm Easter morning, one of the most unique services in the world will be broadcast over the United States and to foreign countries. A message to the world from the canyon floor will be broadcast by Howard Pyle, chief narrator for a Phoenix, Ariz., radio station, and interspersed with the message will be the music of the Flagstaff State college A Capella choir and the prayers of Episcopalians clergymen from the canyon's rim, a mile above. Pyle is shown, left, as he set up and tested his broadcasting equipment at the side of the river. The choir and Episcopal clergymen are pictured, above, conducting the service on the rim.

Theaters Today

Hollywood Stage Show Coming to Maryland

"Folies Caprice," the Hollywood stage show opening Monday at the Maryland theater, features many young contract players loaned out by the studios for this tour to gain actual stage experience.

There are thirty-five in the cast including several familiar headline acts embracing every kind of known variety of the stage comedians, magicians, acrobats, dancers, musicians and "de lovely" glamour girls.

The staging is colorful and bizarre, the costumes are unusual, and the whole show, with a special musical comedy score, is paced in modern streamline fashion.

'Sea Wolf' To Open Today at Liberty

Today's new picture at the Liberty theater is "The Sea Wolf," Warner Brothers screen version of the famous novel by Jack London, starring Edward G. Robinson, Ida Lupino and John Garfield, with a supporting cast headed by Gene Lockhart, Barry Fitzgerald, Alexander Knox, Stanley Ridges and Francis McDonald.

"The Sea Wolf" is a story of life aboard the hell-ship "Ghost," where Wolf Larsen commands a gang of cut-throats.

A tender love story is woven through the action, with Ida Lupino and John Garfield as the sweethearts, Robinson, of course, portrays Larsen, Alexander Knox a screen newcomer, plays the role of a young author, and Barry Fitzgerald plays "Cookie," a sniveling, slimy coward who famously reports to Larsen everything that goes on among the other members of the crew.

This Is Certainly News; Woman Misses Last Word

That women usually have the last word may be true—but not when Preston Sturges make a picture.

That last word belongs to William Demarest, the comedian who has appeared in each of the three pictures which Sturges has turned out so far. Having the last line

In a movie is important to an actor particularly in a film authored and directed by Sturges, whose genius Hollywood "discovered" only in the last year.

Demarest, usually cast as a "toughie" of some sort, attained greater recognition and popularity than he ever had before, by being seen—and having the last word—in Sturges' "The Great McGinty," "Christmas in July" and in "The Lady Eve," the Paramount comedy which is now playing at the Strand theater.

The stars of "The Lady Eve," Barbara Stanwyck and Henry Fonda, didn't feel at all slighted by not sharing the final fadeout.

However, just before Last-Word Demarest flips his line, Miss Stanwyck and Fonda go into a series of whirlwind embraces and clinches—six in all.

'Boom Town' Next Embassy Feature

Revealing the entire story of the drama of oil for the first time, with a story that is entirely one of action and with a star group that includes Clark Gable, Spencer Tracy, Claudette Colbert and Hedy Lamarr, "Boom Town" will open at the Embassy theater tomorrow for an engagement of three days.

"Boom Town" is a dramatic story of two friends who carry on through reversals and successes even when one marries the sweetheart of the other. The friendship breaks dramatically and is renewed just as dramatically when the unmarried friend breaks up an affair between his former sweetheart's husband and an adventures.

Through this story runs scenes of roaring gushers, flaming oil fires whiffed out with TNT, blistering fist fights, a head-first dive into a street of mud to escape a rain of bullets, the hero on a bucking mule, a hold-up, a scrap between two

400 Hitters Scarce
DETROIT (AP)—It has been 17 years since an American league batsman hit about 400. The last to turn the trick was Harry Heilmann of Detroit in 1923 when he hit 403. Heilmann also came close to the mark of any hitter since that time when he hit 398 in 1927. The lowest average to win the batting crown this century was 396, which brought it to the tip of Cleveland in 1905.

NEW YORK, March 27—If you were asked to name the best pitchers in the major leagues you'd tally with Bob Feller, Buck Newsom, Bucky Walters and Claude Passeau, and you'd be just about as right as you can get.

For certainly, they are the best pitchers today.

In that "today" lies the claims of fourteen others, who are about to start another campaign. It is these others we say, who are the best pitchers in baseball.

They are the veterans who have consistently pitched winning ball, year after year. Their records prove they are the "cream of the crop."

Feller Ace of All
With the exception of Feller, who has the jump on most of his competitors because he is starting at such an early age and thus may set all kinds of records before he is through, today's pitchers still have many games to win to rank in a class with such "great" performers as Lefty Grove, already winner of 293 (count 'em) games; Ted Lyons, who has bagged 233 decisions; Red Ruffing, victor in 229 productions; Carl Hubbell, victorious 227 times, and many others.

A look-see at the list of veterans still being considered in pitching plans for the 1941 campaign reveals that several of the "stars," specifically, Paul Derringer of the Reds, Fred Fitzsimmons of the Dodgers, Mel Harder of the Indians, Tom Bridges of the Tigers, Lefty Gomez of the Yankees and Lon Warneke of the Cardinals, are being counted on not only as helpers but as regular starters.

Root in Nineteenth Year
And, this despite the fact that each has won more than 150 games in their careers which have stretched over more than ten years in the majors.

Take the case of a few. There's Charley Root of the Cubs, now 42 years old. Root has won 193 games while losing 153. He should reach the select circle of 200 winners this year. Larry French of the Cubs, only 33 years old, could make the 200 circle with 21 wins. Harder, only 32 but a veteran of thirteen years with the Tribe, still needs 29 victories for the select circle of 200 winners.

Grove, the outstanding hurler of the group, should reach the class of 300 winners this year. All he needs is seven more victories. He is 41 years old.

Dizzy Dean, prior to his arm trouble, bid fair to become one of the greatest pitchers of all time. He has won 150 games in ten years and is only 30 years old. But Dean, season that might change this year. Anyway, I never felt better nor had more stuff."

Bucky Walters, another Red star, looks more like a top artist pitcher than anyone I saw. This means he gets the right results with the least show of effort—less waste motion, less strain. Tab for another big year.

Joe Cronin, in his dressing room—"Put us down for better pitching than we got last year. We have ten possibilities and if four come through our pitching will be O. K. One twenty-game pitcher will be a big help. I think we'll have him this time."

Fastest man in baseball—Johnny Rucker of the Giants or George Case of the Washington Senators? Argument under full steam. Both are streaks. National League backs Rucker—American League supports Case. Close to a dead heat.

Sergeant Hank Gowdy of the Cincinnati Reds—"Yeah, I'd like to enlist again but the old Sarge is a little too old, I guess. That was 24 years ago when I traded the mask for a gun and we split a green, moldy sandwich in one of those French woods."

Joe Gordon will have to guard against one weakness at first—he makes plays umpires don't believe possible, so they call the runner safe. I saw at least two of these turned in. And the Flash happens to be an acrobat of pythonic mold.

Gabby Hartnett will mean more to the Giants than any batting or fielding average can possibly show. Gabby is Old Spark Plug again, a big help for any pitcher. In the same way you can figure that Frank Pytalik will bring a world of needed assistance to Red Sox pitchers and the team at large.

The physical shape that surrounds Charlie Gehringer, Tigers' star second baseman, has been the most cheering news Del Baker has heard all spring, not even barring the lift of mockingbirds chanting their sonatas in neighboring palms and moss-draped oaks. The years remain Gehringer's vassals.

And, this despite the fact that each has won more than 150 games in their careers which have stretched over more than ten years in the majors.

Take the case of a few. There's Charley Root of the Cubs, now 42 years old. Root has won 193 games while losing 153. He should reach the select circle of 200 winners this year. Larry French of the Cubs, only 33 years old, could make the 200 circle with 21 wins. Harder, only 32 but a veteran of thirteen years with the Tribe, still needs 29 victories for the select circle of 200 winners.

Grove, the outstanding hurler of the group, should reach the class of 300 winners this year. All he needs is seven more victories. He is 41 years old.

Dizzy Dean, prior to his arm trouble, bid fair to become one of the greatest pitchers of all time. He has won 150 games in ten years and is only 30 years old. But Dean, season that might change this year. Anyway, I never felt better nor had more stuff."

Bucky Walters, another Red star, looks more like a top artist pitcher than anyone I saw. This means he gets the right results with the least show of effort—less waste motion, less strain. Tab for another big year.

Joe Cronin, in his dressing room—"Put us down for better pitching than we got last year. We have ten possibilities and if four come through our pitching will be O. K. One twenty-game pitcher will be a big help. I think we'll have him this time."

Fastest man in baseball—Johnny Rucker of the Giants or George Case of the Washington Senators? Argument under full steam. Both are streaks. National League backs Rucker—American League supports Case. Close to a dead heat.

Sergeant Hank Gowdy of the Cincinnati Reds—"Yeah, I'd like to enlist again but the old Sarge is a little too old, I guess. That was 24 years ago when I traded the mask for a gun and we split a green, moldy sandwich in one of those French woods."

Joe Gordon will have to guard against one weakness at first—he makes plays umpires don't believe possible, so they call the runner safe. I saw at least two of these turned in. And the Flash happens to be an acrobat of pythonic mold.

Gabby Hartnett will mean more to the Giants than any batting or fielding average can possibly show. Gabby is Old Spark Plug again, a big help for any pitcher. In the same way you can figure that Frank Pytalik will bring a world of needed assistance to Red Sox pitchers and the team at large.

The physical shape that surrounds Charlie Gehringer, Tigers' star second baseman, has been the most cheering news Del Baker has heard all spring, not even barring the lift of mockingbirds chanting their sonatas in neighboring palms and moss-draped oaks. The years remain Gehringer's vassals.

Del Baker, Yankee third baseman—"I had the flu and eye trouble last spring and part of the summer. I never was right. Now I feel better than I have since coming to the Yankees. I'm certainly anxious to wipe out 1940."

Old-timer—"The best hitter in the National League is Johnny Mize. He has been their best hitter for three years. His five-year average is 340. He smacked 43 home runs last year and drove in 137 runs. With at least five big league clubs Mize would be a $30,000 a year ball player—$25,000 a year at the lowest figure." Most ball players agree with this.

Double Foul
LAKIN, Kans. (AP)—In a high school basketball game here a player was fouled. He stepped to the line and tossed his free throw. Just then the lights went out. When they came back on nobody had the faintest idea whether the shot was good or bad. There was a huddle and the player was given another throw.

Joe McCarthy, Yankee manager, staring poyeyed at the field from the dugout—"I'm watching Gordon play first," he said. "He's shown me plays I never saw there before. Another Chase if he wants to be."

Bob Feller gradually getting his control. "He's only four inches away now," Peckinpaugh tells us. "This will be the best year he's ever had." How many know that even two inches can wreck control?

Bill McKenchie talking about Johnny Vander Meer, his double no-hit pitcher. "The kid's still got everything—speed and curves—except control. If he ever gets that he'll be a wonder. Why can't he get it? I only wish I knew." So does Vander Meer.

Bill Dickey, slapping a golf ball 230 yards—"See, I kept my weight back on that one. That was the trouble with my hitting last year. I was overanxious and kept throwing my body in too soon. It will be different this season. You say 300? I'm hoping for better."

Charley Keller, the Yankee slugger—"Big hand? Sure when I was seven years old I was milking tens every morning. I got up to eighteen cows. If that doesn't build up your hands, nothing else will."

Leo Durocher—"How good is Pee Wee Reese? I'll tell you. I wouldn't trade him for any two shortstops in baseball today. A good ball player? He's more than that—a great ball player. And still he's only twenty-one!"

Del Baker, of the Tigers—"If we lose Hank Greenberg in the draft, Rudy York will drive in more runs than anyone else in either league. He drove in 134 runs last year. Outside of Greenberg, how many others were close to that mark?"

Billy Southworth, Cardinal manager—"We've got a good defensive club and we've got the punch. If we get the pitching we hope to get, don't go out on the limb for Cincinnati and Brooklyn. We'll be there trading with 'em. They've got some weak spots, too. Maybe."

On the Cleveland bench—"So Rizzuto and Priddy are two wonders at short and second for the Yankees? Wait until they take another look at Boudreau and Mack. I won't even be close—fielding, or hitting or anything you want. Rizzuto is no Boudreau and Priddy is no Mack."

Senate Approves Conservation and Race Track Bills

Both Measures Get Through with Very Little Opposition

ANNAPOLIS, Md., March 29 (Saturday) (AP)—The state administration's Conservation bill and its measure imposing a special tax on half-mile race tracks passed Maryland's Senate early today with comparative ease.

Opposition to the Conservation bill, led by Dr. H. C. Byrd, University of Maryland president, was broken by Governor O'Connor and his forces early this week and the measure was sent to the House for approval by a 21 to 6 vote.

It would create a board of natural resources to coordinate the conservation activities of state departments. Only Senators Louis Phipps (D-Anne Arundel) and Joseph Wilmer (R-Charles) took the floor to oppose the bill, which would take control of the state forestry department away from the University of Maryland.

The other administration measure sent to the House would impose a special two per cent tax on bets placed at half-mile race tracks to help finance the equalization of negro and white teachers' salaries.

Coach Foy Curry, announced yesterday that the initial work candidates for the Allegany school track team will be Monday afternoon weather permitting.

The outlook is good for a fine team at Allegany as Curry who is starting his eighth season here as track coach will have seven boys from last year's championship team, as well as several others who are expected to make the squad.

The first competition for the team will be at College Park, Md., at the University of Maryland, where Curry plans to lead the annual interclass meet in April.

The CVAL meet will in all probability be held in Cumberland, Md., on Saturday May 10, has been set aside for the Frostburg State Teachers college invitation meet.

The West Siders will defend the CVAL championship here in May with the meet being staged at Fort Hill stadium while on May 23, the team will go to go for the annual Allegany meet.

It was said yesterday that the city meet will probably take place on Decoration day, May 30, and on June 7, Allegany won the county will go to Westinghouse to take part in the annual Westinghouse meet.

Heading the list of boys who returned from last year's team, Tom Ruddy and Vernon Miller, 440 in addition to specializing in the jumps. Miller also hurled, discussed and both he and Ruddy expected to fill in on the team.

Other veterans are Miles Anderson, Bill "Jesse" James, Fred Ivan, Harold Muma and Bob

VILLE, N. C., March 28. (P)—Hogan didn't put very good but he did put together the most incredible rounds ever and took a four stroke first round of the $5,000 "The Sky" open golf tournament at a four-under-par 67.

It should seem a paradoxical to consider the fact that Benjamin missed four greens on the left, was short of an inch on his second shot, and yet another. That is not of golf which, under aver-unsions, will make a man's standing.

Breadon Declares Cardinals Look Fine This Year

Says St. Louis Has Best Ball Club It Has Had in Several Years

ST. LOUIS, March 28 (P)—Sam Breadon was home today with the song of the Red Bird in his heart. To hear the chorus, you'd think it was the victory tune of the pennant-winning St. Louis Cardinals. "Everything looks fine," warbled the club president on his return from training camp. "It's a great ball club — best we've had in a long time and I believe you'll see something."

How about that infield which Manager Billy Southworth has been switching like a woman selecting an Easter bonnet? "It's just a question of getting the best combination," Breadon replied. "They're all good and Billy is having a tough time deciding what to play what and where. But that'll all be ironed out before the season opens."

And the outfield? "The outfield? Oh, the outfield!" continued Breadon with crescendo. "The best in either league. Yes sir, I said the best outfield in the business."

"I don't know who's going to play left field, but whoever he is, he'll be a crackerjack. He'll have to be — to win the job away from the other fellow."

"And Walker Cooper as a catcher? Boy, he's really something. He's a great catcher. You know, he doesn't hit high fly balls; he just sends out those low, hard liners."

If you still need more notes before getting in on the Cardinal chorus, continue another stanza with the optimistic impresario:

"All our pitchers are good, too. I wouldn't want Southworth's job of trying to pick which ones to keep. He might make a mistake, you know, because they're all swell."

POTOMAC VALLEY SOFTBALL TEAM TO PRACTICE TODAY

Mike Armstrong, manager of the Potomac Valley team in the Allegheny County Softball League, announced at a meeting of the club last night that the first practice session for the 1941 season will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock providing the weather is suitable.

Armstrong said he has about twenty-five players under contract including eight or ten who were not members of the team last season. He said the outlook is good for a much improved team this year and he expects the club to finish higher than last season when the Potomac Valley team was fifth in the league race. Two or three practice sessions will be held each week until the league season opens April 29.

The diamond has been improved and is in shape for the team to practice on it. Other routine business was transacted at the meeting which was held at Yoder's store near Rawlings.

Officers of the Potomac Valley club are H. J. Barton, president; Walter Yoder, secretary-treasurer; H. M. Armstrong, manager and John Armstrong, business manager.

Brooklyn Fans' Hopes Make Dodgers Uneasy

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 28.—One million madmen of Flatbush, Red Hook, Canarsie and other Brooklyn faubourgs expect the desperate Dodgers to win the pennant this year, which makes things a little uncomfortable for the Dodgers.

They won't be lynched if they fail. On the other hand, they won't be able to go out much in the daytime. A leading madman, a principal zealot, a prominent monomaniac is Leland Stanford MacPhail, president of the Brooklyn club. Mr. MacPhail feels that this should be the year. Ignoring the shrill pleas of the stockholders, he has spooned out money right and left for rare ivory to build up the team. Now that he thinks the team is ready, he has turned it over to Leo Ernest Durocher with broad instructions to win the flag or else.

You can't blame Durocher if he goes around chewing his fingernails and snapping at dogs. The man is nervous. Hell, he is fully aware, has no fury like a disappointed MacPhail, and MacPhail is just a sample Brooklyn rooster, a little larger than life-size.

Can They Make It?

Loquacious Leo is not easily daunted. The old Durocher chin is up, and the Durocher tonsils still sprink quickly into action. But he appears to be the victim of what his own French ancestors would have called a slight malaise. He wonders to himself, Can the Dodgers make it?

That's something you can't help wondering about, watching the Dodgers. They have their points, all right. They look fast and neat, especially when one of their pitchers is in the groove—W. K. Higbe, say, or John Whitlow Wyatt, or Lucius McCorkinale Hamlin. But at other times—

"Well, I'll tell you," says Durocher, who is always glad to tell you, no matter how bleak his private reflections. "It's no secret that there are two clubs to beat in our league, Cincinnati and St. Louis."

"I look for Cincinnati to slip some, and us to improve. We gotta make up twelve games of margin. That could happen. The Reds have their worries. Lombardi is none too spry, even when his ankles are in shape. Derringer ain't the old Derringer, and if you ask me, they didn't do themselves no good trading Billy Myers away. Who they got now that can play that much shortstop? Or as much?"

"The Cards now, the Cards are a mystery club. They got the hitting; it looks like they might have the pitching, too. Listen, you know the Cards have kicked away a couple of pennants in the last few years by starting slow and fooling around with their lineup way into June. When they started coming, they came fast, but too late."

"Now, if Bill Southworth should happen to get his team off winging this year, they're gonna be hard for anybody to catch. Anything wrong with that reasoning?"

Owens Gets Around

Your correspondent, having expressed the same reasoning himself a couple of weeks ago, in respect to the Cardinals, could find no fault with it.

"Well," said Durocher, "those are the clubs we have to beat, and we might beat em. We got a fast infield, better punch in the outfield, and that Mickey Owen, when he's catchin' he's a fifth infielder. Certainly gets around. Certainly helps the pitchers. So if the pitchers can help themselves a little, we'll be right up there, neighbor."

There is certainly no number infield in the National League, composed of Dolph Camilli, Pedro Cascarari, Peeewe Reese (or Durocher), and Harry Lavagetto. Mickey Owen, to this department's notion, is the best defensive catcher in baseball, better even than Frankie Pytak. And he hits better than his record shows, for he hits in the clutch.

The Dodger outfield has added power, with a full-time Medwick free to all appearances of gun-shyness, and a brave young thug in center field, Pete Reiser. Paul Waner may not hit all year. He can be replaced. But there will be spells during the season when old poison will streak along high above .300, and that kind of thing is useful.

The pitching — there's the rub. Every sort of logic says that you can count on Kirby Higbe for at least eighteen wins. Wyatt at his best is a twenty-game winner. But will Wyatt be at his best? And what can you expect from Hugh Casey, Hamlin, Curt Davis and Freddie Fitzsimmons? Maybe the Dodgers will get quite a lot. Maybe nothing.

Durocher has a large gamble on his hands. If he wins, the key to the city and the raucous blessing of L. S. MacPhail. If he loses — well, there are some things it is better not to think about.

Bowling Green Boy Is Killed by Hit-Run Driver

Billy Retallick Hurlled from Road By Impact of Car

Boy Suffers Crushed Head When Thrown into Shallow Ditch

Billy Retallick, 12, son of Mrs. James Russell Retallick, of Bowling Green, was instantly killed last night about 7:25 o'clock when he was struck by a hit-run driver while walking along the McMullen highway near Roberts Place.

His death marked the second traffic fatality in Allegany county this year. An eight-year-old girl was instantly killed January 31 in Frostburg when she was hit by a truck while sled riding.

Robert Tabor, 12, also of Bowling Green, who was walking with Billy, escaped being hit. He was on the outside of the road.

Suffers Crushed Head

The boys were walking on the right side of the highway, toward Cumberland, when the hit-run machine struck young Retallick, hurling him from the road into a shallow ditch. The left side of his head was badly crushed and there were brain burns on one leg.

The Tabor boy, who said they were enroute to a nearby store, immediately ran to the home of Frank P. Hines for aid. Hines and R. P. King, 115 Race street, rushed the Retallick boy to Memorial hospital but he was pronounced dead on arrival.

Dr. Linne H. Corson, deputy medical examiner, was called to examine the body, which was later taken to the Kichhorn funeral home in Londoning.

Brother Hears of Death

Robert Retallick, an older brother of the dead boy, arrived at the hospital dispensary about 8 p. m. A student nurse saw him in the hallway and asked what he wanted.

"Do you have my brother Billy here?" he asked.

The student nurse was somewhat taken back and looked towards the nurse in charge. She said the boy could not be seen.

"What's the matter?" Robert asked.

"He's dead," the saddened nurse replied.

The young man looked dazed and then turned away, his eyes filling with tears. He started for the door but Dr. Corson called him back and after trying to soften the shock inquired of the various things necessary in cases of fatal accidents.

Recalling the Tabor boy, Mrs. Walter L. Morton and Mrs. Pauline Bradley, both of Cresaptown, traveling in the opposite direction, were the only ones to see the hit-run machine. Neither saw the accident occur, they told police.

Headed Toward Cumberland

Mrs. Morton, who was driving, said the hit-run car was headed toward Cumberland and nearly collided with her machine. She said she left the road and ran over a curb to escape from being struck.

"I didn't see the accident occur but I could tell something had happened," she added. "I just felt the other driver had hit something."

Both women told officers the hit-run machine looked like a 1929 Model A Ford, but were unable to give any other information. They said the machine was traveling too fast to make out its exact color or license number.

Later, city police picked up two young men for questioning in connection with the fatality, but soon discharged them.

Many Officers Investigate

Corp. John H. Doud and Trooper R. C. Mason, of the state police, are investigating the accident. They were assisted last night by Assistant Chief of Police John J. Treiber, City Detective Robert E. Flynn, Deputy Sheriff David Steele and Officers C. J. Stouffer, W. P. Crabtree and R. M. Nuse, of the city police force.

The victim was a pupil at Mt. Royal Elementary school.

Surviving besides his mother and brother are an aunt, Mrs. Isabelle Morcan, of Bowling Green, with whom they resided, and his father, who lives in Cleveland, Ohio.

Senator Lindsay Bitterly Assails Robert B. Kimble

Accuses Allegany Countian of "Blackguarding the Judiciary"

ANNAPOLIS, Md., March 28 (AP)—Senator James J. Lindsay (D-Baltimore county) launched a bitter attack tonight on Senator Robert B. Kimble (R-Allegany) and on labor's "fat cats."

Taking the Senate floor during debate on a Business Pension bill, Lindsay accused Kimble of "blackguarding the judiciary" and "fat cats" (labor representatives) of "living on the poor downtrodden laborer."

When Lindsay had finished his tirade, Kimble denied impugning the integrity of the judiciary, asserting that in his arguments against increasing judges' pensions he accused some judges of selfishness and greediness.

Kimble also declared that he had several connections with labor organizations in 1937.

Lindsay called the Allegany countian a "soap-box orator" who heard him day after day blackguarding the judiciary, x x x.

"You see C.I.O. (Congress of Industrial Organization) representatives sitting around this chamber with soft hands."

"x x x Day after day labor with growing arrogance presents demands, not for better wages or conditions but for 'fat cats' who have attached themselves to labor, who button-hole legislators x x x who live on the poor downtrodden man and never do a day's work."

"x x x There is a sinister move afoot to break down the judiciary. Doesn't the C.I.O. want courts?"

"Do they want to control not only the legislative but the judiciary and executive branches of government?"

After the debate subsided the Senate adopted a favorable report on the Judges' Pension measure and sent it to third reading.

Judges with ten years experience on the bench would receive an annual pension of $2,400 upon reaching 70. Those who retired before serving ten years would receive a $2,000 a year pension.

Radio 'Hams' Will Participate in Emergency Test

Will Relay Messages from Red Cross Chapters to National Headquarters

Amateur radio operators of this section will participate April 4, 5 and 6 in what is probably the greatest radio practice drill ever undertaken—the origination and relaying of 3,700 separate radio messages between as many local chapters of the American Red Cross and the latter's headquarters in Washington, D. C., St. Louis, and San Francisco.

Message from this section will be sent to Washington, D. C. from chapters in Oakland, Cumberland and Hagerstown and other nearby towns.

Test Is for Emergencies

The test sponsored by the American Radio Relay League, is dedicated to perfecting the ability of the institution of amateur radio to serve the Red Cross at any time in the event of flood, earthquake, hurricane, fire or defense emergency which might face part of all of the United States.

Members of the League's Emergency Corps, a group of several thousand licensed amateur stations devoted to self-powered communications work, will transmit the messages to be originated by chapter chairman in the 3,700 communities. Amateurs throughout the nation will participate, answering radio calls of "CQ Washington," "CQ St. Louis" and "CQ San Francisco" to take the message traffic and relay it to its destination. Elaborate receiving set-ups organized by radio clubs in the three cities of destination will provide a corps of operators, working in shifts and assigned to comb various sectors of the ether to listen for messages coming their way.

Operators To Make Receipts

The amateur 3500 and 7000 kilocycle bands, which offer reliable domestic communication day and night, are expected to carry most of the traffic. Messages will have 15-word texts, and will be addressed to one of the three destination cities, depending upon the section of the country in which the originating chapter is located. Each operator handling a message will be required to receipt by radio to the station from which he receives it—in the same manner as the handling of regular amateur message traffic.

The group of selections will be presented in the style of a minstrel, with interludes, encores, "silver-throated" soloists, a close-harmony quartet, and choruses by the ensemble. A minstrel theme song, written by Father Kean for the characteristic rag-time of the early 1900's, will introduce this portion of the program.
